You can search for distance learning and sort through a million hits or you can visit one Web site listing distance education opportunities from all of Indiana's public and private colleges, universities, and high schools—www.icn.org

The screenshot shows the Indiana College Network (ICN) website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'Ask ICN', 'Sitemap', 'FAQ', 'My ICN', and 'Text-only'. Below this is a main header with the ICN logo and the tagline 'Your gateway to eLearning from Indiana colleges and universities'. A secondary navigation bar includes 'Home', 'About ICN', 'Getting Started', 'Admissions & Registration', 'Courses & Programs', 'Services & Resources', and a search box. The main content area is divided into several sections: 'Courses' (view full descriptions for 3,000+ courses), 'Programs' (view plans of study for various degrees), 'Choices' (enroll in distance education classes), and 'Support' (get personal assistance). A central 'ICN Spotlight' section features an article titled 'Teaching and Learning in Web-Based Courses: A Professional Certificate Program' with an image of a student at a computer. To the right, there are sections for 'Information for...' (Prospective Students, High School Students, Current Students, Coordinators, Workplace Partners), 'E-Newsletter' (Read/Subscribe), and 'Preview an online class!' (Preview). At the bottom right, there is a logo for 'ihets.' (The Indiana College Network is a service of the Indiana Higher Education Telecommunication System).
